SOLONS RESTRICT JUSTICE OF PEACE POWERS

MASS OF BILLS RUSHED THROUGH CLOSING CONFAB

County-Wide Authority in Traffic Cases Removed ACT SENT TO GOVERNOR
Trustees May Serve Two Additional Years

COLUMBUS, April 30 — (UP) — With the clocks in both chambers covered to "stop" time, the legislature resumed its last-minute law-making push today after passing scores of bills, including a measure to curb the power of justice of the peace courts in traffic cases.

The justice bill, sponsored by Senator Maurice W. Lipscher, and Rep. John T. Hewitt, both Mahoning county Democrats, was among the few important bills on which both houses completed action in yesterday's tumultuous sessions.

The measure restricts the jurisdiction of justices in traffic cases to their own townships. At present, "J. P.'s" have county-wide jurisdiction in these cases.

The bill now goes to the governor for his signature.

"Sundry Bills OKed"

By a vote of 102 to 0, the house passed an emergency measure the $282,502 sundry claims bill providing payment for claims against the state. It now goes to the senate.

The senate passed 20 to 0, and sent to the house the Wilcox bill, providing a sentence of 30 days to six months and a maximum fine of $500 for conviction of theft of a motor vehicle valued at not more than $100. For vehicles valued at more than $100, the sentence would be two to five years and two to seven years for second offenses.

POWERS TO AID MANY REFUGEES IN BASQUE CITY

PARIS, April 30 — (UP) — France and Great Britain have agreed to aid in evacuation of civilians from Bilbao, in response to urgent appeals of the Basque loyalist government, the foreign office asserted today.

There are 500,000 people crowded into the city, according to estimates of the Basque loyalist government.

Eden told the house that the government was considering what action was possible to prevent recurrence of the bombardment of civilian populations in Spain.

The foreign secretary's request for an urgent report on nationalist intentions toward Bilbao was sent to Sir Henry Chilton, the ambassador to Spain, who maintains his headquarters at Hendaye, France, near the Spanish frontier.

French Agents Guarding Wally

Squad of Secret Service Operatives Assigned After More Threats Are Received; Divorce Put on Docket

MONTES, France, April 30. — (UP) — A squad of French secret service men arrived at the Chateau De Candé today to inspect and investigate threatening letters which Mrs. Wallis Simpson is receiving in increasing numbers.

There were about 20 of the secret service men around the chateau. Some were on guard duty, questioning visitors. Others were hiding in hedges; some toured the countryside on bicycles.

Secret service men visited hotels in a 20-mile radius about the chateau, seeking suspicious persons in expectation that the Duke of Windsor would join Mrs. Simpson within a few days.

As the day of the duke's expected arrival neared, traffic increased on the roads in the neighborhood. Hotels were filled with newspaper men and photographers. Detectives were stationed to watch arrivals.

LONDON, April 30. — (UP) — Mrs. Wallis Simpson's application for a final divorce decree was definitely set today for hearing in the divorce court Monday.

Mrs. Simpson's application for a decree absolute, which would free her to marry the Duke of Windsor, was among those in today's "cause" list of the divorce court, to be issued this afternoon as set for hearing Monday.

Documents necessary to make the decree final already have been deposited, in readiness for final signatures at the end of Monday's hearing.

From the moment the decree is granted, Mrs. Simpson and the man who gave up a throne for her will be able to marry.

DETROIT RELIEF CLIENT STARTS CORONATION TRIP

DETROIT, April 30. — (UP) — Mrs. Violet Crocker, welfare client, was enroute to England today to attend the coronation of King George VI while chagrined welfare authorities threatened reprisals against her husband, Harry, a city employee.

Dubious at first, welfare authorities had scoffed at the possibility the middle-aged, bespectacled woman could have undertaken the trip on her welfare budget. But today they learned the woman had been enroute to Montreal last night from Windsor, Ont.

They began an investigation and learned that Mrs. Crocker kept three boarders, had done "outside" work never reported to the welfare department and had received an unspecified sum from a sister, Mrs. Rose Foster, who lives in England and whom Mrs. Crocker hasn't seen for 26 years.

Charles L. Hickey, relief investigation supervisor, said the case had been transferred to the restitution bureau and that repayment of part of the funds paid the Crockers would be sought from the husband's pay check. He is working on a city street-paving project.

FINANCE GROUP DEADLOCKED ON TEXTBOOK LAW

COLUMBUS, April 30 — (UP) — The finance committee of the house of representatives stood deadlocked today on the issue of the Kane-Gallagher bill to require the state to provide free textbooks for pupils in parochial and private schools, as well as to pupils in public schools.

The committee divided, 11-11, on two motions designed to bring the bill before the house for passage, the voting of the members being identical on each. The tie vote defeated each motion.

For the motion was Clark Hunsicker, D., Pickaway.

The bill would establish a state free text book fund, from which each school district would be allocated $2.50 a year during the 1937-38 biennium and $1.50 a year thereafter for each pupil in the elementary, junior and senior high schools, including public, private and parochial schools.

BOND OF $200 SOUGHT

Two Accidents Occur at Same Location

Three persons were injured and one motorist was arrested Thursday night in auto collisions on Route 56, four miles west of Circleville.

Gibbons was cut on the mouth. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell on a charge of driving when intoxicated.

$200 Fixed as Bond

H. O. Eveland, justice of peace, said Gibbons was making arrangements at noon Friday for his release under a $200 bond to report for a hearing at a later date.

Mrs. Lucy Gilmore, suffered a cut on the left side of her head when the auto in which she was riding with her husband, Leonard Gilmore, Williamsport, Route 1, and the auto of John Watson, Route 2, Circleville, collided.

Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell, who investigated both accidents, said the second occurred while the first was being cleared.

A car driven by Joyce Haskell, Xenia, O., was damaged Thursday evening in a collision with a truck operated by a Mr. Conrad, Route 56. The accident occurred at the intersection of the Lancaster pike and Lovers Lane.

SEN. KING LEADS FIGHT TO HALT JUDICIARY BILL

WASHINGTON, April 30. — (UP) — Sen. William H. King, D., Utah, said today that he would lead a move to kill President Roosevelt's court reorganization program in the senate judiciary committee.

King broke with other opponents of the judiciary bill in advocating an attempt to prevent the measure from reaching the senate floor.

"The proposal for six new justices on the supreme court is definitely defeated and I will do everything in my power to bury the bill in committee," he said.

"I don't want the committee to make any kind of a report—either favorable or unfavorable—on the bill."

Previously opposition senators, commanding a majority in the judiciary committee, had insisted that there would be no effort to kill the measure in committee. They preferred to allow it to go to the senate floor with an unfavorable report.

NEGRO RESCUED FROM IRATE MOB AFTER CAPTURE

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 30 — (UP) — Willie Hawkins, youthful negro charged with attempted criminal assault of a white married woman, was held in Chatham county jail for safe-keeping today after two men rescued him from a mob near Midville, Ga.

The negro was captured by a group of white men at Midville and held all day yesterday. The unidentified men who rescued him and turned him over to Sheriff J. L. Herrington of Burke county, said a "lynching party" had been planned for shortly after night-fall.

Sheriff Herrington said the two men rescued the negro at a clever ruse and drove over back country roads to deliver him safely at the Burke county jail at Waynesboro.

"Feeling was running high all over the county and I immediately put him into my car and rushed him here," Herrington said.

Hawkins was accused of an attempted criminal assault of a white woman at Blythe, Ga. last Monday.

FOUR DIE, LONE CONVICT LIVES IN JAIL BREAK

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., April 30. — (UP) — Roy Altizer, 26, only survivor of four convicts who attempted to escape from West Virginia penitentiary, lay near death in the prison hospital today, muttering curses at the men who frustrated his dash for freedom.

In the morgue lay three fellow prisoners who gambled their lives in a bid for liberty—and lost. All four were shot down by prison guards yesterday as they rumbled across the big prison yard in a stolen truck, toward the heavy main gate leading to the outside.

The three killed were: Ralph Richards, 23, Wellsburg, W. Va., and Pittsburgh robber; Clifford Stewart, 20, Cabell county, W. Va., and Harry Battle, 35, Wheeling negro, serving a life term under the habitual criminal act for shooting. — Wheeling policeman in 1935.

H. E. Straley, superintendent of construction on prison walls, was the only casualty among the penitentiary guards. He was slashed on the hands and face by homemade knives which the convicts used to force the truck driver to turn the heavy machine over to them.

Shot through the neck, chest, head, abdomen and leg, Altizer was not expected to live. Dr. C. F. McClintic, prison warden, said he didn't "know what is keeping him alive. He must be made of steel. He cursed us for trying to save his life."

Two other methods are also open, one to take the impeachment request to Gov. Martin L. Davey, and the other to file a complaint in probate court.

As a feature of the annual Parish Holstein show, Miss Aloha Warner, 18, of Fairview, and Lady Shylcock, pride of Harvey Bechtelheimer's herd, carried off the honors in the beauty contests.

The judges were unable to decide about five pretty milkmaids so they ordered a milking contest to decide the winner. Aloha pulled 11 1/4 pounds of milk in two minutes to clinch the honor. Lady Shylcock won in a walk. Her hay bale prize came wrapped in patriotic streamers.

ESPANA, LEADER OF FLEET, GOES DOWN IN BATTLE

Part of 840 Men Aboard Rescued; Many Said to be German, Italian

BRITISH BOAT FIRED ON

Steamer Believed First Sunk By Aircraft

BILBAO, Spain, April 30. — (UP) — The battleship Espana, chief unit of the nationalist fleet, was bombed and sunk today by loyalist airplanes, the loyalist government announced.

With the destroyer Velasco, the 15,452 ton Espana, was steaming off the coast of Cabo Mayor, at the entrance of Santander bay, 60 miles west of Bilbao.

A little British freighter approached. It was announced as the Knitsley.

Both nationalist warships steamed for the Knitsley and ordered it to halt, the loyalist reports said. Instead the freighter made for the safety of Santander.

The Velasco fired 12 shots at the freighter as the little ship raced for shelter, its wireless flashing appeals for help.

32 Planes in Fleet

The message was heard at Santander. A loyalist fleet of 32 planes which had arrived there took to the air.

Three miles off Cabo Mayor, the airplanes sighted the Espana. Under the eyes of the coast guard crew at the cape, the loyalist planes circled over the Espana and the Velasco and bombs began dropping.

Aboard the Espana were some 840 officers and men, and the Espana had to meet the plane's attack with its old pre-war deck armor 1 1/2 inches thick, two 3-inch anti-aircraft guns and smaller guns.

The coast guard men reported that they saw a tremendous bomb strike the after end of the battleship and explode. The Espana began to list and settled in the water, they reported, and sank one hour after the bomb struck.

The Velasco, nearby, steamed to the dying ship's aid and according to report, took off officers. Unofficial reports, not confirmed here, were that officers were believed to include Germans and Italians.

Fishing boats made off from the shore, the reports said, to rescue the crew.

First from Air

It was expected that the old Espana, once the Alfonso XIII, battle-ship to be sunk by an airplane. Its loss is a severe blow to the nationalists. It is not only their only battleship but one of a few big ships in their navy.

NAVAL AVIATOR ON MERCY TRIP INTO VENEZUELA

CARACAS, Venezuela, April 30 — (UP) — Capt. C. C. Jerome of the U. S. naval base in the Panama Canal zone, was on a 450-mile flight from Maiquetia to the Cuyuni river today to rescue five persons injured in the crash of an airliner last Friday in the Guianan jungles.

They included Frederic D. Grab, commercial attaché of the American legation here, and William Armstrong Perry, an American writer. Perry and Pilot Jorge Marciano were reported in critical condition. Other passengers included a woman and a Capuchin missionary.

All five persons were reported to be near their wrecked airplane some distance down the Cuyuni river from El Dorado, where they had been exposed to the elements six days without medical attention.

News of the crash were telegraphed here from El Dorado, to which point the co-pilot, Mendoza, the radio operator, and a Venezuelan passenger, all slightly injured, made their way in a small boat. The liner was returning here from Brazil when it crashed.

SEN. LAWRENCE AND HUML FIGHT OVER LABOR BILL

Chairman of Rules Group Demands Public Apology For Statement

ACT'S DEATH IS SEEN

No Intention to Offend, Cuyahoga Man Says

COLUMBUS, April 30. (UP)—Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, majority floor leader and chairman of the senate rules committee, today refused to accept the written apology of Rep. Lody Huml, D., Cuyahoga, for charging Lawrence attempted to kill the anti-injunction labor bill by withholding it from the senate calendar.

"I do not consider the apology satisfactory," Lawrence tersely said.

Rep. Huml's apology, addressed to the majority floor leader, came after Sen. Lawrence read to the senate last night a letter from the Cleveland representative charging that "reactionary influences swayed the administration and its keyman, Sen. Keith Lawrence, who controls the rules committee, to kill the bill."

Lawrence, his face flushed, told the senate he would not "even consider" placing the bill on the calendar for passage until he received a "public apology" from Huml.

Vote of Confidence

Sen. H. D. Byrne, D., Portage, immediately made a motion to give Sen. Lawrence a rising vote of confidence. The motion was unanimously adopted.

In his reply, Huml said he was "sorry that you or anyone construed my letter as containing any intimidation or insult."

"I would be the last one to so jeopardize this very meritorious and important bill," Huml said.

"Taking you at your word and so that neither of us as individuals shall be charged with the defeat of this measure and for the sake of the cause, I assure you and the other members of the committee that there was no intention on my part to offend anyone."

In his first letter, Huml charged Lawrence had held the bill for "one week" without taking any action. The bill was passed by the house.

"If our months of struggle and worry in sponsoring this bill meet with defeat at this crucial hurdle and the bill does not go on (the calendar) for passage in time to have the house concur in senate amendments, that betrayal is charged to the administration."

Attempt Exposed

"If the bill does pass at the last moment, we secured that only by advising the governor's secretary and Sen. Lawrence that the betrayal and wilful attempt to defeat the measure will be exposed to organized labor."

Lawrence said Huml told him copies of the letter had been sent to "50 labor leaders."

Huml concluded the latter with the statement that "a high official of the United Mine Workers of America authorizes this letter."

The sixth volume of Lloyd George's memoirs appears and it reveals that the former Premier has yet to make his first mistake.

Mushroom Hunters Busy In Ashville And Vicinity

Hints For Determining Good From Bad Told By Villager

By S. D. FRIDLEY Phone Ashville 79

Mushroom hunting has the attention of no small number of our citizens. The number and quantity gathered in, varies in degree of how much of a fabricator one happens to be. And which are the poisonous varieties? The real best and sure test is to fry 'em to an appetizing brownness and eat all you can hold. Go to bed and if you get awake the next morning, the mushrooms were the right kind, and if you fail to awaken you got the other kind. Keep this in mind and you'll not go wrong.

First Game Planned Postmaster Stanley Smith, manager of the Ashville ball team, has made several calls to his prospective players to be on the ball grounds Sunday afternoon for a practice tryout, but Old Man Jupiter Pluvius has beat 'em to it each time. So another call is made for the boys to be out in force next Sunday afternoon for a real game with a Columbus team.

Church Discussed Met with Harley Hines the other day and proceeded to make some inquiries about the St. Paul Lutheran church of which he should know a lot. He told us according to statements made by the older people, St. Paul church was started as a mission in 1834 by the Rev. Joseph A. Roof who is the grandfather of Ashville's Joe Roof and the father of the well known late Martin L. Roof. In later years, Mr. Hines told us, he had been identified with the church as Sunday school superintendent for twenty-eight years and yet at it. In the last year there were fifty in his school that had a perfect attendance record, which is not so bad for a country church. "Both the church membership and the Sunday school attendance is not on the decline as is true of many country church organizations," he said in conclusion.

Cycles Scheduled The local ball team will play the first game of the season at Community Park, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, meeting the Columbus Cycles. Harry Sark, Amos Hollenback, Harold Sheldon and Alfred Caghen will form the batteries for the locals. Fifteen of our business men are supplying the suits for the team.

Serum Hogs Obtained William Sampson brought in today a load of what is known to veterinarians as "serum hogs." They were trucked in from Fort Thomas, Ky., and go to the hog cholera serum plant at Columbus. These animals are bled to their

BIG SHIP, WITH 134 ABOARD, SAFE ON WEST COAST

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, April 30 (UP)—The S. S. Cordova, carrying 104 passengers and a crew of 30, approached this port today with fire burning in her No. 2 hold and her steering gear damaged by a storm.
The fire was believed under control. The U. S. navy minesweeper Swallow, which raced to the Cordova's rescue, abandoned the convoy 60 miles from Ketchikan when it appeared that no further aid was needed.
A radio message to the U. S. coast guard base at Seattle said the Cordova's crew was able to choke down the flames with steam until the ship reached port.
An emergency gear was rigged up to keep the 1,269-ton ship in hand when the rudder was disabled by heavy seas. Distress signals were sent out late Thursday as the Cordova's crew battled the double peril of fire and storm. The ship was in Necate strait between the Queen Charlotte islands and British Columbia, at the time.
The Swallow raced to the scene and then ploughed through the heavy seas beside the endangered ship as they sped together for shore.
The 104 passengers were all

FIVE CHINESE REVOLT AGAINST JAPANESE RULE

Many Massacres Reported
in Manchuria as Whole
Towns Rise

SOLDIERS ARE SHOT DOWN

Attacking Troops Armed With Modern Equipment

HARBIN, Manchuria, April 30—(UP)—A fierce revolt against the Japanese conquerors spread today through northeastern Manchukuo. Massacres, burnings and lootings were reported in meager dispatches to Harbin. Hundreds of Japanese soldiers, civilians and emigrants were believed killed.

Chinese insurgents were involved in the uprising and the best information was that Chinese civilians were carefully spared in the devastation of towns. Japanese call the rebels bandits.

The whole country, which is twice the size of the New England states, was torn by strife and unrest. There were many violent demonstrations against the Japanese, who wrested the country from China several years ago.

One unverified report said a raiding party attacked Sansing, killed 16 Japanese officers and 16 Gelsa girls at a pleasure resort, and slaughtered 42 Japanese officers and 282 soldiers in another section of the town. At the same place, 132 civilians were reported slain and 31 kidnaped for ransom.

Patriots Lead Revolt

A devoutly patriotic group of Chinese in Sansing was said to be directing the entire revolt.

Most of the reports emanating from the scenes of violence were vague. All agreed, however, that the attacks were directed against Japanese soldiers and settlers, and that Japanese colonists were unable to enforce their famous "law and order" edicts in the fertile area of broad rivers and rolling plains that Japanese soldiers captured from China.

There were numerous reports of the capture, ransacking and burning of towns and the murder and kidnaping of Japanese. The insurgents were said to be well armed with rifles and machine guns and to be composed entirely of Chinese who have refused to recognize the Japanese-dominated government of Manchukuo.

Scope of the revolt was judged by reports from the interior, which were checked against government documents and opinions of neutral observers at Harbin. The situation was compared to that of the early days of the Indian wars on the American frontiers.

The town of Lian, an important trading center, housing a strong garrison of Japanese, was reported captured by a force of more than 500 insurgents. Japanese reports said one soldier and one Manchukuo policeman were slain. Other sources indicated that scores and perhaps hundreds of Japanese soldiers and settlers died there.

DRUGGIST NEARS HIS 59TH YEAR IN ONE LOCATION

George F. Grand-Girard, W. Main street druggist, will carry some extra chewing gum in his pockets Saturday.

He will be celebrating an anniversary — completion of his 59th year in the drug business at the same location.

"I'm going to wait until I complete my 60th year before I hold another big celebration," Mr. Grand-Girard said. "Then I'm going to have a real affair like I had nine years ago." On that occasion he held "open house" at his store and more than 1,500 persons visited the establishment to express their best wishes and congratulations.

Mr. Grand-Girard purchased the drug store from his brother, Herdman, in 1883 after being in business with him for five years.

The silver-haired druggist, whose good nature and smile has made him wealthy with friends, is well known to the "children" of all ages for his gifts of chewing gum.

Nature is wasteful. She gives the biggest appetite to the lean fellow who never seems to get any good out of it.

SENATORS CLAIM EDGE IN FIGHT TO CUT FUNDS

Attempt to Restore Ohio
Appropriations Bill
Faces Contest

HUNSICKER IS APPOINTED

Conference Committee to Act
If Necessary

COLUMBUS, April 30 — (UP) — Claiming victory in the first round of their battle to slash $16,000,000 from state expenditures in 1937 and 1938, senate insurgent leaders today reformed their lines to block an expected attempt to restore the appropriations bill to its original figure.

At the same time, a six-member conference committee, which insurgents charged was "administrative-packed" and "not reflective of the views of the minority," began work this morning to make the appropriations bill "acceptable" to both houses.

The bill was passed in the senate following a heated four-hour battle after administration forces succeeded in restoring about $1,900,000 to the measure.

14 Millions Saved
Despite the additions, members of the no-new-taxes bloc led by Sen. Horace W. Baggett, D., Montgomery, youthful Dayton attorney, contended the minority bill still saved the state about $14,000,000 for the two-year period.

The actual saving was impossible to determine, however, as the minority bill lumped all expenditures into one measure the administration provided for the appropriations in several bills.

Although the appropriations bill never reached the house for consideration last night after its passage by the senate, an "informal" conference committee was appointed in the belief the house would not approve the measure.

House members appointed were Rep. Al Kalb, D., Ottawa, chair-

ACHING HEADS AND SPOTTY EYES

Don't let constipation ruin your health. Read Mr. Davidson's message of cheer: "Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has sure been a godsend to me. This is the first relief I have ever had. Believe me, I will be a booster for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN as long as I live." — C. T. Davidson, 722 N. St., Sacramento, Calif.

Common constipation may lead to many diseases. Unpleasant breath, blotchy complexion, spots before the eyes — are only forerunners of worse to come.

Conquer constipation with a delicious, ready-to-eat cereal — Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Simply eat two tablespoonfuls daily — in chronic cases with every meal. Serve it with milk or fruits. Cook into appetizing muffins, breads, etc.

You'll prefer this delightful, natural way instead of the artificial action of pills and drugs. Buy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Plan To Raise Funds Aired By Democrats

WASHINGTON, April 30. — (UP) — Democratic plans to raise $10,500,000 for political purposes during the four years of President Roosevelt's second term have bogged down somewhere within the national committee organization.

The fund-raising program was adopted here Jan. 21 at a national committee meeting. Committee officials told the United Press that so far the plan has not raised a penny nor have any of the proposed 48 state money collectors been named. Secret quotas were to have been assigned each of the more than 3,000 counties in the United States. None has been assigned so far.

Program More Modest
Committee officials said, however, that some movement toward a trial test of the fund raising program probably would be made within the next fortnight. But the program will be considerably more modest—at least at the outset—than as outlined last January before the national committee. But the committee expects to finance the 1938 congressional campaign from proceeds of the program. It is supposed to provide $5,000,000 for the 1940 presidential campaign.

The approved plan, submitted by the late W. Forbes Morgan before he resigned as party treasurer, fixed definite quotas for each of the four years. They were 1937, $1,000,000; 1938, $2,000,000; 1939, $2,500,000; 1940, $5,000,000.

All Democratic fund raising, the plan provided, would be consolidated in each state under a fund director to be paid either on a salary or commission basis. The director would be appointed by the national committee. He would raise all national, state, congressional district and county funds by solicitation.

BAKED BY WALLACE'S

WHAT does it mean to you and yours when you read that "the speed of freight trains has been stepped up 43% in recent years"?

—or that "the railroads haul a ton of freight a mile at rates averaging less than a penny"?

Right on your breakfast table you'll find a part of the answer—in things you take for granted in this day of modern miracles.

Fresh berries, for example, travel by rail an average of 1,200 miles before they're served.

The butter for your toast averages 927 miles by rail.

The rail mileage of cereals is 627 on the way to the breakfast table—and of eggs it's 1,353.

Or if you want some really big figures, you can take oranges or grapefruit—they average 2,125 miles by rail.

And the amazing fact is that many of the advancements in railroading which make these comforts possible were developed during hard times.

Steadily, in tough years as well as good, the railroads have pushed forward—laying heavier rails, developing better brakes and more powerful engines, speeding up the sorting of cars and doing many other things that the public seldom sees, in order to give better service.

No wonder a railroad man is proud of his job—and proud of the enterprise which keeps American railroads in the forefront as the finest transportation system in the world.

OPEN LETTERS

TO COUNCILMEN

MEMBERS: Many important issues, including the sewage disposal plant, electric light rates, improvements of streets and alleys and other matters are before your group for settlement. All have been dragged along for some time, and none definitely settled. When council has important matters to work out why not hold some committee meetings? When lengthy discussions are conducted at the regular meetings very little is accomplished. If citizens attend four meetings they usually have a long wait before they have an opportunity to speak, while councilmen hold long recesses or conduct lengthy discussions on matters in which they have little, if any, interest. Have your committees prepare recommendations, and so much time will not be wasted in the meetings. More citizens will take an interest in your sessions if they move along at a snappier pace. I understand there have been no committee meetings called recently on any of the important matters being considered.

TO W. P. A. OFFICIALS

FOLK: Since new projects are needed to replace those rapidly nearing completion, why not prepare an extensive recreational program for the summer? Children will soon be out of school. Supervised recreation is beneficial for the youngsters and helpful to parents. Select activities that you know will attract children and hold their interest.

TO EAGLES LODGE

FRIENDS: One of the ambitions of all fraternal organizations is ownership of a home free from debt. You have accomplished that goal, and you deserve congratulations. On May 9, a $2,000 mortgage, the last indebtedness on your property, will be burned as a feature of a big district meeting. I wish your organization continued success in accomplishing its undertakings.

TO CITY OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: Circleville's housewives have declared war on last winter's dirt. The cleaning season is in full swing. In every home there is a certain amount of rubbish to be tossed out. Its disposal is a major problem. City officials should arrange a clean-up day soon for hauling away this trash. Designate days for residents in certain parts of the city to have their rubbish in alleys in containers so it can be easily hauled. Other cities follow this system every year, and it should be practiced here regularly. It would be wise at this time to start solving the garbage problem for Circleville. Why wait until warm weather arrives with its numerous complaints.

TO CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS

FRIENDS: Beginning May 9, Circleville and Pickaway county will observe Safety Week, a campaign to be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce with the assistance of various civic organizations. The program has not been definitely established, but every organization should take part in the week's activities. Traffic accidents injure and kill many persons in Pickaway county every year. A campaign to teach motorists and pedestrians to be more careful is worthy of your fullest cooperation. Do your part in making the campaign a success.

TO MAYOR GRAHAM

DEAR SIR: The season for heavy traffic on the highways has arrived. This would be a good time to add a few more buff-colored bricks to the historic design at Court and Main streets, so it will be more plainly seen by motorists. It is difficult to figure out the design in its present condition.

TO SCHOLARSHIP TEAMS

YOUNG FRIENDS: Your accomplishment in winning places on the Pickaway county and Circleville scholarship teams, to compete in the district-state examinations to be held at Ohio State university, merits high praise. To rank first, or even second, among all pupils in the county in a particular subject is a record of which you may well be proud. It not only is a tribute to your mental alertness and energy, but much credit is reflected on your teachers. Several schools qualified more pupils than others, especial tribute being due them. Winners at the university will be certified to the state for appropriate awards. I wish the Pickaway county representatives the best of luck.

TO "POLITICIANS"

MEN: The time of year is approaching when the hats of many would-be city officials will be sailing through the air with the ultimate goal the primary election next August. Persons who seek public office should make a careful study of themselves and of the office they seek. Many individuals have campaigned for office for no apparent reason other than a desire to have a political job. The task of administering the affairs of a city the size of Circleville is a difficult one, as any person who has tried it has learned. Political party organizations cannot keep some persons from running for office, but they can use their influence in keeping them from winning elections.

World At A Glance

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

If ever two policies contradicted one another Uncle Sam's policy to keep out of the next world war and his policy to exercise moral suasion on the rest of the world to prevent another world outbreak are mutually contradictory.

Supposing that war does come, it undeniably will be mightily difficult for the United States to remain neutral.

But non-participation will be practically impossible if we have had a voice in international discussions preceding it. And that our voice will have any appreciable preventive influence is too fantastic an idea for serious consideration.

EAGER FOR US
The British are friendly to the notion of including the United States in current chats concerning the present threatening old world situation. Naturally they are; it is a situation in which they are desperately anxious to complicate us, on their side of the controversy. They are extraordinarily clever at the task of effecting such complications to their own advantage.

France is friendly to the scheme, Paris, like London, hopes to get by it. Moscow probably agrees with London and Paris.

NOT SO EAGER

Germany, Italy and Japan are less sympathetic toward American participation in pending negotiations.

They are aware that, in the event of a clash, the United States cannot imaginably look on their cause otherwise than coldly, even if not definitely as a partisan of the Anglo-Franco-Russian combination.

One way or the other, various little powers (not counting Latin America's) are interested, but those are the big ones.

ENVOYS COME

Britain recently has had three statesmen—visitors in Washington—President Walter Runciman of England's Board of Trade, a cabinet position; Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada, and Governor General Lord Tweedsmuir of Canada.

France has had extra-diplomatic representatives here of late.

Butler would not melt in the mouth of Ambassador Troyanovsky of Russia.

These diplomats are pulling for Yankee co-operation. The Italian embassy is silent. Ambassador Saito of Japan tries to explain the Mikado's intent. Germany has just changed ambassadors, because Hans Luther retiring, has not been sufficiently pro-Hitler.

AS STEWART SEES IT

In short, Britain, France and Russia think they can "hook" Uncle Sam for their program.

Germany, Italy and Japan don't think so, from their standpoint.

It goes almost without saying that the Anglo-Franco-Russian group counts on tying Uncle Sam to its kite string—for better (if there isn't a war) or for worse (if there is one.)

And Uncle Sam invariably loses diplomatically.

He may win in a fight, but look at his post-war finances!

Well, what involves him in a fight is his pre-war diplomacy. After which he is thimble-rigged financially, becoming an Uncle Shlock.

TEMPTATIONS

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, they say, is averse to any conversations with prospective overseas belligerents under existing conditions.

A crafty attitude! But the administration appears to be tempted.

The White House, in talks with Runciman, et al., is dabbling with Britain, Ambassador Bullitt with France, Ambassador Davies with Russia.

The purpose of the thing is pacifistic.

Nevertheless, it recalls 1915, '16 and '17.

CHAPTER 38

"COLONEL LUTMAN told you he burned the check?" asked Jacqueline incredulously.

Her mother nodded.

"And he said he hoped that I would honor him by forgetting that I had ever written it. I shall. But it's very awkward having nothing fit to wear when I dine with him."

Jacqueline was silent for a time, watching her mother as she picked up dress after dress, gave it a disparaging glance, and tossed it aside. Then she said:

"I saw Colonel Lutman this afternoon, mother."

"Yes—so he told me. You had a cup of tea together and a pleasant little chat, he said."

"Did he tell you anything else?"

"Yes, dear. He said that he had talked it over with you again, and the affair with Jim Asson was definitely off. Jim, he said, was very cut up about it, but on the whole it was perhaps just as well. Colonel Lutman has a very high opinion of you, Jacqueline, and thinks that, after all, you might do very much better for yourself than Jim Asson."

"I could hardly do worse."

Her mother smiled.

"As a matter of fact, my dear, I believe the Colonel is actually glad you've refused to marry Jim," she confided. "Of course, as an honorable man—and Jim's trustee, too—he couldn't show his feelings when you were engaged to him, but now that you're unattached."

"Do you mean, mother, that Colonel Lutman wants to marry me?"

"My dear, if you ask me, that's the real reason why he's taking me out to dinner. Te-te-te, he said, and when a man says that there's always something in the wind. It's only natural that he should want to know what I think about it first. So delicate of him!"

"And what do you think, mother?"

"I think he's a very eligible husband going begging, and it's certainly worth while for any girl to be sensible about him. After all, he's quite good-looking—especially when he doesn't screw up his face to keep his eyeglasses in. But I don't suppose he does in his eyeglasses. It isn't so much what a man looks like in his lounge suits that matters, my dear; it's the sort of creature he turns out to be in his pajamas. Your father was a dreadful disappointment when I first saw him in his pajamas. Blue and pink stripes, dear—terrible!"

"And you really think that Colonel Lutman would be a suitable husband for me? You'd really like me to marry him?"

"I'd like you to marry someone, Jacqueline, and Colonel Lutman has a great deal of money."

"Are you sure?"

"Quite sure, my dear. He told me so himself. And with all that money, someone ought to marry him. I should do my best to like him, Jacqueline, if I were you. He may not be the sort of husband you dream about, but no man is when you've lived with him a few months, and you wouldn't have to lie awake at night worrying about the gas bill. You'd better lend me your blue dress, dear: none of these is fit to wear."

Jacqueline brought the dress, added it to the collection on the bed, and turned to go. At the door she paused.

"Don't write any more checks, mother, will you? Not for Colonel Lutman, anyway."

"My dear, if he offers . . ."

"He probably will offer, but I want you to promise me that you won't let him cash any more. He might not burn the next one. Will you remember?"

"I'll try, my dear. But the sales are on, and it won't be easy. I badly need a fur of some sort, and if Colonel Lutman wants to give me one—he's very quick to take a hint, you know."

"Oh, yes, you can let him give you a fur if you want to, mother," said Jacqueline wearily. "There's no harm in that, I suppose."

Her mother became thoughtful. "I've been wondering, dear," she said, as Jacqueline opened the door to go, "what fur would be most suitable."

"As a present from Colonel Lutman?"

Her mother nodded.

"Oh, skunk, I should think," said Jacqueline, and went to her own room.

It did not take her long to decide what course she must take. The obvious thing to do, since Charles was the family lawyer, was to go straight to him, tell him of her discovery of the will in Colonel Lutman's desk, and leave it to him to take whatever steps he thought advisable.

She went to the telephone, asked for Messrs. Stuckey & Stuckey's number, was requested by the voice of the estimable Mr. Bells to "hang on a minute," and a few moments later smiled as she recognized Charles' hearty "Hullo!"

"Is that you, Mouthpiece?"

"Hullo!" repeated Charles.

"Jacqueline Smith speaking."

Charles Stuckey's voice when he replied had perceptibly mellowed.

"Hullo, Jacqueline! Good egg! I wanted to have a word with you."

"Well, what's all this about young Jim Asson? I've had Lutman down here foaming at the mouth, and Asson gnashing his teeth, and I've been expecting all day to have your mother on the telephone blaming me because you've taken a violent dislike to the shape of young Asson's nose and refused to marry him. What's wrong with him?"

"This is only a three-minute call, Charles."

"But you were so determined to marry him."

"I've changed my mind, Charles. 'Bit sudden, wasn't it?"

"Very. That's the way love works, you know. We women are fickle things."

"Well, it's got me beat, anyway. I can hear the big legal brain"

How to Solve Problems Peculiar to Older Folks

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IN HER BOOK called "Guiding Your Life" Dr. Josephine Jackson considers some of the problems which confront older people.

Being Out of Sorts: In middle age, when many of the responsibilities of life have been taken away, people are sometimes inclined to become discontented. They are "out of sorts" all day long. One woman said "I am not like myself any more." She felt sick all over. Every time she would complain she would be advised to go to a doctor. In the course of time she had X-rays of every part of her body, reports on examination of her blood and of her other excretions, tracings of her heart and respiration and blood pressure.

With all of them there was just a little something wrong because she was a middle-aged woman, but that wasn't what was the matter with her. Like Othello, her occupation was gone. Her children had grown up. Some changes had occurred in the glands all over her body; the sap wasn't flowing quite as rapidly.

For women of this kind, Dr. Jackson has three words of advice: One is a balanced diet with a predominance of fruits and vegetables as time goes on. Second, don't let any nervous habit grow on you, such as "feeling your feelings" or noticing any little nervous sensations; they will soon be forgotten if you ignore them. Third, go on with the job of setting your children an example of an unselfish woman who is willing to meet life unafraid. In thinking of your families you will save yourselves.

Woman Says She's Lazy
Another type of experience, which is fundamentally the same thing, is a woman who writes as follows:

"I wonder if you could offer any advice to a woman of forty-eight, mother of five grown children and grandmother of two babies?"

"I am so lazy! I keep writing schedules for my work and plans for my garden, but I peter out before I do more than get my men folk off to work in the morning. I do my washing and ironing all through the week and accomplish little, just rousing to clear up and get dinner for their home coming at night."

Women like this are apt to get the idea that there is something physically the matter with them. Of course, it is well enough to have an examination to prove whether there is or not, but fundamentally the trouble is psychological. She should humor herself a little. It is perfectly natural, after a useful, busy life, that she should feel let down. Give in to it. Take some rest. A man of this type needs a hobby and so does a woman. In the course of time, the tides of life will flow back and a feeling of health will be restored.

Doctors are more and more coming to the realization that these cases must be treated psychologically. Even if there is some organic disease present, the primary treatment should be psychology.

Lacquered Straw Sailor

THIS IS the season of the year when every woman's soul is torn with doubt as to whether she is wise to get one of those floppy straws and wear it through the entire season, or to buy a small hat that will also do for the summer, and that vacation trip she is planning.

As usual, too, there are so many fascinating models in every possible size shape, and style of trimming that unless one can afford several hats, one is likely to be chosen and then the owner mourn that she didn't pick something else.

A smart and conservative model is shown worn by pretty June Travis, motion picture actress. It is a lacquered black straw sailor with a fairly broad brim and shallow crown. A band of black grosgrain ribbon lined with Kelly green ties in a broad-wired bow at the front. Especially good for spring, this hat may be worn through the summer and into the autumn.

Draped Crowns

Wide brimmed hats with draped crowns are becoming more and more important as are open crowned mushroom shapes trimmed with ribbon or flowers. For the debutantes there are skull caps trimmed with streamers or flowers. In the high crowned list are the fez and pill-boxes and some wide-brimmed models sometimes made of felt and straw combined, whose crowns are high and conical.

Group No. 2 is to furnish the program and Group No. 1 is to serve the lunch. Mrs. Will Hegele and Mrs. Cora Coffland will be in charge of the dining room.

The program in charge of Mrs. Ida Hussey was presented. Reading "Spring" was offered by Miss Viola Woolever. A vocal solo, "Smiles" was given by Phyllis Ann Hawkes. A quartet, "He Lives on High" was sung by Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. Hegele, Miss Denman and Mrs. Puckett. Mrs. James Trimmer continued the program with a reading, "Trees," and Mrs. Vernon Hawkes sang, "Little Old Lady." The last number on the program was a recitation, "The Ladies' Aid" given by Mrs. Morris, in memory of Mrs. Florence Byers.

The meeting closed by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" after which the Rev. Mr. Harper pronounced the benediction. Lunch was served to 40 members and friends by the April committee with Mrs. Long, chairman.

Lutheran Missionary Meeting

Mrs. Mary K. Bower was re-elected thank-offering chairman of the Columbus group of the Women's Missionary Federation of the American Lutheran church at the meeting held Thursday, in the Trinity Lutheran church, of Marysville, O.

"STOP YANKEES" HEARD AGAIN AS NEW YORKERS WIN FIVE IN ROW.

PEARSON EDGES SENATORS WITH SIX-HIT GAME

Cleveland in Second Spot as Whitehill Holds Detroit Safe

CARDINALS HIT HARD

Only Five Hits Given By Cincinnati in 6-1 Tilt

NEW YORK, April 30 (UP)—The familiar cry "Stop the Yankees," again reverberates around the American league. The world champions have intact a winning streak of five games—longest of the young season—and are setting a killing pace of 8.33. The Yanks' old extra-base power has been missing in early games, but they get runs just the same. In six games they have made only one homer (Lazzeri) and one triple (Selkirk). New York beat Washington yesterday, 4-2, with only nine hits. They needed only four hits, however. Their first run resulted from Pearson's single, Crosetti's double and an infield out. Then a walk, a sacrifice, another walk, Rolfe's single and Roy Johnson's double accounted for the other three. Monte Pearson let the Senators down with six hits following on the heels of Lefty Gomez's 5-hit game.

Long Hits Count
The St. Louis Cardinals kept up their sizzling pace in the National league by winning their sixth game in seven starts, a 6-1 victory over the luckless Cincinnati Reds. Lon Warneke registered his second Cardinal victory, keeping the Reds' eight hits scattered. The Cards made only five hits but three of them were triples by Medwick, Bordagaray and S. Martin and one a double by Medwick.

Pittsburgh held its place half a game behind the Cardinals by losing to the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, in 13 innings. Bill Lee, who relieved Clyde Shoun in the eighth, walked P. Waner, Dickshot and Arky Vaughan after Todd's single to force in the winning run. Manager Charlie Grimm was ejected from the game for protesting Umpire Charlie Moran's decision on Demaree in the eighth. Demaree tried to score on Hartnett's double and was called out with what would have been the winning run.

Freddy Fitzsimmons held the Dodgers to five hits in pitching the Giants to a 9-0 victory over Brooklyn. Fitzsimmons also hit a single, double and homer.

Tony Cucinello's homer with a man on base gave the Boston Bees a 6 to 4 victory over the Phillies in 11 innings. Cucinello also made four singles. Deb Garmes made three singles and a double in six times up.

Cleveland moved into second place in the American league by trouncing Detroit, 12-3. Whitehill held the Tigers to seven hits. Averill, Lary and Pytlak led the Indians' attack with three hits each.

IF A TRUMP IS LED

WHEN A DEFENDER leads a trump, it should tell the declarer something about the rest of his hand. One inference to be made is that he probably has not a worthless doubleton or trebleton in some other suit. If he did he probably would try to hold on to his few trumps, with the hope of getting a ruff. Such a deduction can be the key to the proper play of the hand.

won by East. A second club was returned, on which West played the club 9 and South winning. South now played the diamond Ace and ruffed a diamond.

At this point one declarer played the club 9 and when East did not cover, tossed the heart 10. West won this with the club 10, holding the contract to five.

C. E. Van Vleet, Jr., of the Whist Club of New York, who sat South at the other table, did not count on West for a doubleton holding in clubs, so ruffed this trick and was able to make six. His theory was that West would not have led a trump with a doubleton holding, but would have preferred to keep his trumps with the hope of a ruff later.

Perry Township Ranks High in Eighth Grade Test

Use of a new type of report card in the county schools was recommended to the Board of Education by superintendents at their meeting Thursday afternoon.

George McDowell, county superintendent, explained some features of the new type of card are still to be worked out, but in general it will give a more detailed report to parents as to the pupil's achievement in subjects and desirable personal traits. It will include a report on the pupil's activities, interests and talents. He believed the more detailed report card would create a better understanding between the home and the school. The new cards would be used in all grades.

Miller Chairman Marvin H. Miller, superintendent of Salt Creek township school, is chairman of the committee that has been studying the report card improvements. Other members of the committee were Brice Connell, superintendent of Darby township, and H. L. Sams, superintendent of Deer Creek township.

Certificates of award for the students ranking high in the senior scholarship and eighth year tests were distributed. Schedules were issued for the events to be held at Ohio State university Saturday in connection with the district-state tests. Pupils taking the tests will have an opportunity to see a swimming exhibition, polo game and track meet.

Schedules of events for the county track meet to be held in New Holland, May 7, were issued. Dr. A. D. Blackburn is in charge of the event. Wendell Boyer, superintendent of Washington township school, presented a report on the recent oratorical contest.

Superintendents discussed plans for the safety week program, and considered elementary hygiene text books, recommending the county board adopt the "Health and Growth" series.

Perry Township High Median scores in the eighth year tests, announced Friday by the county superintendent, showed Perry township was high with a score of 105. Other scores were: Darby 83, Deer Creek 78, Duval 99, South Bloomfield 76½, Jackson 83½, Madison 78, Monroe 72, Mulenberg 73, Pickaway 87, Salt Creek 86, Scioto 82, Walnut 82, Washington 83, Wayne 80, Ashville 101, New Holland 81, and Tarlton 77. ## EXPERT ASSISTS DENHARDT CASE IN NEW CASTLE

NEW CASTLE, Ky., April 30 (UP)—Major Seth Ward, Washington firearms expert, today supported the suicide theory of Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor's death with testimony that the revolver which killed her was held against her body.

He was the first of six ballistics and chemical experts to testify for Brigadier General Henry H. Denhardt on trial for the murder of his fiancée.

The side of a hog's carcass, punctured with six bullet wounds, was laid on the floor before the jury and Ward delivered a lecture on ballistics.

The commonwealth had produced evidence purporting to show that the gun which killed Mrs. Taylor — it was Denhardt's .45 calibre army revolver — had been held "more than nine inches and probably more than 18 inches — from her body."

COULDN'T EVEN ASK FOR MORE

Digestion Was Upset, Suffered From Gas, Bloating, Sourness, All Because of Constipation. Tells How Vendol Gave Quick Relief.

Remarkable reports are current regarding the famous double-acting medicine Vendol, which is a combination of Nature's roots and herbs with valuable alkalines. Grateful users are spreading its fame and many are astonished over the power which this preparation appears to possess in helping to relieve some of the most obstinate and pitiful cases. It is results that count, and it is results which are the foundation of Vendol's fame.

MRS. HATTIE MOSLEY

Mrs. Hattie Mosley of Route 1, Chillicothe, Ohio, says: "For three or four years I was nervous and nervous that it took me 2 to 3 hours of rolling and tossing in bed before I could even get a little sleep. My digestion was in poor shape too, and after every meal, regardless of what I ate, I would feel with gas and sour, vinegar-like liquids would rise up in my throat to nauseate me. I also seemed to have endless trouble with my bowels and every night I would have to take some sort of strong laxative in order to get a movement. I can tell you I was often so weak and miserable that I felt as though I couldn't put one foot in front of the other. "The various medicines I tried brought me nothing but the most temporary relief. But I was advised to try Vendol and it helped so wonderfully that I couldn't possibly have even asked for more. "Vendol gave me marvelous relief from my constipation and now I sleep the whole night through from the moment my head touches the pillow until my clock awakens me next morning. My digestion is so greatly improved that I eat most anything I like and am not troubled even in the slightest by indigestion, bloating or gas. My elimination is as perfect and systematic as it was many years ago. Truly, I feel like an entirely different person, full of energy and strength. I feel too, that anyone who tries Vendol will get the same wonderful relief so I advise them not to put off starting on it."

Gives relief from ill-like Stomach Trouble, Sluggish Liver, Weak Kidneys, Painful Joints, Aching Muscles, Quivering Nerves due to Constipation.
